It was dark and rainy and I lost my GPS and cell phone service about two hours from location. The road signs for my destination were non-existent. Was very frustrating not knowing if I was on the right road in the right direction. I thought to myself, " Sure would be nice to have a road map!" Well now I have one. Got one for the wife also. I got lucky while going through a small town and seeing a small sign at a four way stop with arrow pointing left to my destination. Something to put on your evacuation list for sure.6 of 6 people found the following review helpful. Had a road on it that doesn't exist!By Becky S.For the most part this map worked for us. However northeast of Galveston, TX, we were heading toward Rt 87. This map shows Rt 87 as going both east and west along the Gulf. But when we got there, the road only ran west. To the east was a beach and water. We ended up wasting nearly an hour backtracking.3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. Be careful what you order and what actually comes up as orderedBy BettyI ordered a Texas State map. I received a New Mexico map. When you pull up the Texas map and click on it, New Mexico automatically comes up so I won't be sending the product back but would like a TEXAS map as ordered. Something is wrong with the ordering buttons or something on your page.
