Michael L Barratt : Ecuador: A Photo Adventure in the Andes before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Ecuador: A Photo Adventure in the Andes:

This CD is a collection of over 150 beautiful and colorful photos taken by an American couple who searched for several years to find a place to retire where the cost of living was reasonable, the weather was never too hot or cold and the food was nutritious and healthy. Another requirement was good reasonably priced health and dental care. Ecuador has all these things and more. Enjoy this scenic Ecuador adventure!

After seeing this video my bags are packed and I'm ready to go. Good information for anyone looking for a great place to retire or visit. --Edd Bonebrake, IdahoAbout the AuthorMichael L Barratt is an American photographer with a love of indigenous and native american peoples and their cultures. He currently lives near Cuenca Ecuador and Boise, Idaho. His motto is: "Enjoy Life and Be Grateful". This is truly the way he gratefully lives his interesting life.
