Delorme Mapping Company : Michigan Atlas Gazetteer before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Michigan Atlas Gazetteer:

Wonderful help when we were in the Keweenaw By Doug Erlandson Although I have lived in Nebraska for four decades, there's one spot I really love to vacation, and that is in the UP in general and the Keweenaw Peninsula in particular. Five years ago when we were planning a trip to the upper Keweenaw, we bought the Michigan Atlas and Gazetteer. It proved invaluable in our explorations. Every road, including some that are little more than rocky trails, is shown, as are many topographical features, including lakes, ponds (even the smallest), hills, swamps, and the like. Although we had been to the Keweenaw several times before, this atlas helped us get around far better than we had on previous visits. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Find your way in Michigan when your GPS can't. By Blind Whitey Find your way in Michigan when your GPS can't. This atlas is indispensable in the upper peninsula of Michigan and other areas where remote and rural roads don't show up with technology. Speaking of technology, no good prepper should be without a good map of their surrounding region. The best part about this Atlas is that it requires no batteries. Get one for your car and one for your bug out bag and check it off your list. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Look, a Map! By Matt Ranzenberger I didn't want to get stuck in the UP in the MASSIVE amount of snowfall they get in July, so I picked this up so I'd know which of the clearly labeled paved roads I needed to stay on to get from Newberry to Paradise and back again. I happen to love maps, so this is actually a great addition to my stable of mapping software and navigation devices. It's much easier to just look on a map and plan a route with lots of stops on it than trying to let software (that doesn't REALLY know what it's doing, especially during construction season) do the work. I've spent 30 years navigating Michigan, I've had tons of maps, and I'm very happy that this is in my car, just in case.
