Chris Bishop : Military Atlas of World War II before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Military Atlas of World War II:

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Excellent additionn to any WW II libraryBy Laurence D. SchillerAn excellent atlas of the entire war. Used it extensively in my class on WW II. Well worth being in anyone's library who is interested in that conflict.2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. must have for any WWII buff's collectionBy Eric Niffeneggerfull color maps of every battle! What's not to love! a must for any serious WWII buff. Oh yeah, baby!4 of 5 people found the following review helpful. A Helpful Guide As A Companion To A Narrative.By Stanley L. CraigThe maps are easy to understand and show battle progression. I would have liked a longer historic paragraph on the battle, just a bit more information in regard to the implications and relevance. Great size, clear maps, good symbols, a helpful book and good value.

This is a comprehensive visual guide to this complex conflict in a large folio edition that allows the fine details of the maps to be seen clearly. It plots the exact course of the land, sea and air battles, enabling the reader to trace the ebb and flow of the fortunes of both sides. Using large full color maps, every theater of war is covered. Contents include the land campaigns in Northwest Europe, North Africa, Italy, the Soviet Union, Southeast Asian and the Pacific; the naval war in the Atlantic and Mediterranean; the great carrier battles of the Pacific theater, and the strategic bombing campaigns of Europe and the Pacific, culminating in the nuclear destruction of Hiroshima and Nagasaki. All the maps come with a key to help the reader decipher the action and events. Each of the 180 maps in the book has been specially commissioned by an expert cartographer.

About the Author Chris Bishop is an established military historian who has written, edited and contributed to numerous military publications over the last 25 years.
