Miss Passport mini three-day unforgettable vacation itinerary (Charlotte North Carolina) If you find yourself in need of a little adventure, but had no idea where you should go find the sort of adventure where you can watch NBA basketball, football Lacrosse and then the wine and dine at some of the finest restaurants in North America, if not the world, as well as experience some old world architecture and charm, while at the same time visiting a world-class aviation Museum and historic Civil War sites. Then maybe Charlotte North Carolina is where you should go. This elegant southern city has everything anyone could desire in a vacation spot show that North Carolina is a wonderful city for exploring Southern culture and US national history from the Revolution to the Civil War and aviation and then she allows you to shift gears to basketball, football or baseball to fill the needs of any discerning sports fan, and then transition from a raucous stadium to an elegant night on the town with the love of your life all of these things are within walking distance of one another in Charlotte. You can be cocooned in five-star luxury, while staying at the Ballantyne Hotel, which will make an excellent base camp for your expedition into Charlotte, you will have everything you need to fortify you for your adventure from the fluffiest bathrobe you have ever seen to the most exquisite and sleep inducing mattress (it will be like sleeping on a cloud). Once you have settled in you can begin your exploration by visiting downtown Charleston and taking in some of the historic architecture. On the prerevolutionary war buildings and walked some cobblestone streets in visiting historic sites doesn't float your boat. Then perhaps you would enjoy watching the Carolina bobcats stomp their opponents into the hardwood or maybe football is more your speed if this is the case. Then you want to score some tickets to a Carolina Panthers game. However, if sports are not what you're after, Charlotte has plenty of extraordinarily entertaining night clubs and bars. One of which is sure to spark your interest and keep you occupied for the rest of the night engaged in interesting conversation over a delicious and intriguing cocktail. However, if you are traveling with a significant other and you are looking for a romantic evening. Why not try the BLT steak house, which is consistently voted the number one. New York style steakhouse in Charlotte, they are famous for their jalapeno mashed potatoes, which are served with all of their excellent steaks. If after your meal, a show is in order. Then you should head to the "comedy zone." It is an excellent venue with a huge variety of comedians constantly in rotation. You are sure to find someone that can tickle your funny bone. After eating and knowing at breakfast the next morning. You can head to the Carolina aviation Museum and see everything from World War I and World War II aircraft to the famous "miracle on the Hudson" flight 1549 that famously landed safely in the Hudson River in New York. However, if you are looking for something on the more spiritual side you can visit the home of world-famous tele-evangelist Billy Graham, which is now a museum where you can learn about the history of Billy's Ministry and his mission to spread the gospel throughout the world. However, if neither airplanes nor religion strike your fancy, you can always wandered through the excellent boutique stores and antique shops in downtown Charleston and picked up some wonderful momentum's of your adventure.
