About the Author I love to travel. My first experiences travelling around Brazil were as a young volleyball player at the age of 13. Since then I have lived abroad in the U.S.A and Australia. I am always very aware of my surroundings and am quick to learn the local way of doing things. I was inspired to write this guide book to share my insights regarding the best way for foreigners to plan their trip to Brazil and how to get around safely once they arrive in this beautiful country.
