

(Download free pdf) Motorcycle Messengers: Tales from the Road by Writers Who Ride

Motorcycle Messengers: Tales from the Road by Writers Who Ride

Jeremy Kroeker

*ebooks | Download PDF | *ePub | DOC | audiobook*

Download

Read Online

#1749012 in Books 2015-10-07 Original language: English PDF # 1 8.50 x 5.75 x .751, #File Name: 0991825012248 pages | File size: 20.Mb

Jeremy Kroeker : Motorcycle Messengers: Tales from the Road by Writers Who Ride before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Motorcycle Messengers: Tales from the Road by Writers Who Ride:

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. ... series of motorcycle riding essays from some of the better or best published works By Bill Boggs A series of motorcycle riding essays from some of the better or best published works.

Overall pretty good reading. Lois Pryce is by far one of the better writers. Worth reading. Inspires you to get off the couch and ride. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great Over View for Many Books to Read By CustomerGreat book, with different writers and styles. A good guide to future full book purchases. There were lots of chapters I was left wanting more Motorcycle Messengers is a collection of travel stories from some of the leading writers in the genre . . . plus a few people you've never heard of. Consider it a sample pack of authors. Read a story by the fire and discover your new favourite motorcycle travel writer. Lois Pryce exploits her dead grandmother and an imaginary husband to access the Congo. Neil Peart finds his rhythm through the curves of North Carolina. Paddy Tyson numbs his fear of crocodiles with a few drinks in Australia. Carla King rides with a screaming, doped-up trucker in China. Sam Manicom is forced out of country by the military in Sudan. Geoff Hill breaks a Royal Enfield, falls in love, and becomes a hookah hooligan in Iran. Jeremy Kroeker yearns to slap a rain gear designer in Slovenia. Ted Bishop tricks himself into one final ride through the United States. Mark Richardson puts his foot up and makes connections in Rwanda. Jordan Hasselmann stares down the barrel of a wooden gun and possibly a real one, too in Guatemala. Christopher P. Baker nearly crashes as he crushes crustaceans in Cuba. Ted Simon ponders humanity while observing a rescue at sea off the coast of Malaysia.

About the AuthorJeremy Kroeker is the author of Motorcycle Therapy, and Through Dust and Darkness. With his motorcycle, he has traveled to 30 countries while managing to do at least one outrageously stupid thing in every one. He has evaded police in Egypt, tasted teargas in Israel, scrambled through minefields in Bosnia and Lebanon, and wrangled a venomous snake in Austria. One time he got a sliver in El Salvador.